WORKERS IN SUNDAY SCHOOLS WILL MEET

Lynchburg to Entertain State Association, and Excellent Program Is Arranged.

BY MAMIE BAYS.
An interdenominational meeting to be held in Virginia during the present week, and one that will be of equal interest to all Protestant denominations, is the twenty-third annual convention of the State Sunday School Association at Lynchburg on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The convention will be held in Centenary Methodist Church, the opening session will be held on Wednesday afternoon, and the closing session on Friday evening.

Lynchburg has promised to furnish entertainment to 400 delegates to the convention, and the central committee of the State Sunday School Association has decided to apportion this number of delegates among the counties of the State. The attendance of delegates is not limited to 400; every Sunday school in Virginia of any Protestant denomination is entitled to representation by one delegate in the State Sunday School Convention, and all pastors of churches and superintendents of Sunday schools are invited to attend the convention.

Also, but Lynchburg will not be responsible for the entertainment of a larger number than 400 delegates, and should the number of delegates exceed 400, the self-entertainment plan will be followed by those not included in the number to be entertained by Lynchburg.

It is not probable, however, that the number of delegates will exceed 400, as that many have not been present at any previous session of the convention, but it is expected that the number this year will be larger than usual, due to the State-wide tour of experts in Sunday school work now in progress and to other special efforts in the interest of making this convention one of marked success in point of attendance and from that of the program also.

The Virginia Sunday School Association is wholly independent of all similar associations in other States, but it is similar in aim and method to like associations in other States and in the provinces of Canada. It is a branch of and is auxiliary to the International Sunday School Association, which, for many years, has been a recognized force in Sunday school work in the North America. The purpose of the Virginia association is to unite the Sunday school workers of different denominations in mutual efforts for the betterment of all of the Sunday schools in the State, and in its own way to bring together at frequent intervals the workers in near-by Sunday schools, so that by the result of counsel and conference each may be enabled to do his most successful work in the Sunday school of which he is a member.

The State Association in no case seeks to control or to govern, but its sole purpose is to teach and inspire; except in its own State conventions it has no authority to say who shall take part and over its own officers to preserve its organization. The financial support of the State Association is secured by voluntary gifts entirely; each Sunday school in the State is requested to take one collection every year for this purpose and individuals who contribute five dollars annually to its work become contributing members of the association.

Among the speakers which the State Association has announced to take part on the program of the convention at Lynchburg are the following named from Richmond: Rev. Joseph T. Watts, Sunday school secretary of the Baptist State Mission Board of Virginia, and Frank T. Crump. Other speakers of prominence announced are Carter Chase of Lynchburg and member of Congress; Rev. Franklin McIlfresh, of Chicago, superintendent of the teacher training department of the International Sunday School Association; R. A. Watts, New York, secretary of religious education of the International Young Men's Christian Association; Rev. George A. Jolin, general secretary of the Kentucky Sunday School Association; Rev. W. L. Long, general secretary of the North Carolina Sunday School Association; Rev. E. W. McCord, president of the Rockbridge County Sunday School Association; Rev. Warren H. Dennis, D. D. of Norfolk; Rev. George C. Minor, of Harrisonburg; and Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, of Chicago, superintendent of the police department of the International Sunday School Association.

Pressure at Danville Reaches Vanishing Point Because of Cold Weather Demand.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Danville, Feb. 14.—The pressure is to all intents and purposes without fear to the pressure being so low that only a few cases of gas poisoning are reported, and cooking and heating stoves are out of operation. The unprecedented demand for gas during the past two days is the immediate cause of present conditions. Most of the city's gas plant, however, is in the line of light during the heavy snowfall in order to prevent the water pipes from bursting. The demand here was double yesterday and today, and the two big gas tanks late this afternoon cooking stoves could not be used to prepare evening meals.

Superintendent Thibault announced tonight that the gas would be cut off entirely at midnight in order that the plant might be repaired. The pressure tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The local plant has three sets of "benches" for repairs for gas-piping gas, which are large enough to supply the city under ordinary conditions. It is expected that the third bench to be put into action, and the cold weather arrived before it could be prepared to meet the demand.

Bethel, New York; M. H. Buehler, Baltimore; J. W. C. C. Richmond; N. C. Stauton; John W. Eckman, Pulaski; D. D. Hull, Jr., Roanoke; H. Hardaway, St. Paul, Va.; B. Laughon, Pulaski.

All of the directors were present at the meeting with the exception of D. D. Hull, Jr., who was absent from the city.

Count Fifty! No Rheumatic Pain

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Oil.

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism.

It's pain only, not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia and reduces swelling.

Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pain, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away—Advertisement.
